

Call for Abstracts:
Spring Symposium on Population Research: New Findings, New Directions
April 17, 2026

Join us for this unique, one-day symposium jointly hosted by the Berkeley Population Center (BPC) and the Center on the Economics and Demography of Aging (CEDA).

Symposium Date: Friday, April 17, 2026
Location: Heyns Room, Faculty Club, UC Berkeley
Time: 10 AM-3 PM
Deadline for submission of abstracts: February 16, 2026

This symposium is an opportunity for the UC Berkeley population sciences community to share and discuss new findings, innovative ideas, and future directions of their research. We welcome abstract submissions from colleagues in all departments at UC Berkeley, and from our external affiliates at nearby universities, who are conducting research aligned with any of our NIH-funded population science research priority areas, as follows:

BPC

- Data Science and Demography
- Family Policy
- Formal Demography
- Population Health
- Reproductive and Sexual Health

CEDA

- Mortality Measurement
- Policy and Behavioral Determinants of Adult Population Health
- Biodemography of Aging
- Macro Consequences of Global Aging

We invite abstract submissions of one page or less to be considered for a short, oral presentation at the symposium. For inquiries about topical areas, please contact Michelle Poulin mpoulin@berkeley.edu or Will Dow wdow@berkeley.edu.

Submit your abstract by February 16, 2026 to populationcenter@berkeley.edu.
